Farm Bureau Holds An Interesting Meeting

The little body of enthusiasts who attended the regular Farm Bureau meeting last Wednesday night were well repaid for their trouble for the meeting was a most interesting one.

Farm Advisor Rubel gave a talk on "Lime" and told of the various uses to which it could be put. He said that lime had the power to shrink clay and make it more pervious to water and air, by making a large number of crumbs from large sticky masses. Therefore, lime makes clay and adobe soil looser, prevents it from packing, breaking and cracking; makes plowing and cultivating easier and makes the soil physically, a healthier medium for plantlife.

Lime materials also make "sour" soils "sweet". In other words they change the condition of the soil from an acid condition to slightly alkaline.

Mr. Rubel also told of the beginning of the Farm Bureau movement in the United States. How after the Civil War the entire South was raising cotton. How their land begins to run out and the boll weevil began his raids.

The government established at several points in the South, Demonstration Farms to show the farmers that other crops could be raised successfully.

Other parts of the United States began to have various troubles as the farmer drove his plow Westward and the government was asked for aid so many times that as an outgrowth of this first move to help the cotton grower of the South, experimental stations have been established in nearly every State in the Union and all over America, Farm Bureaus are coming into existance.

For the benefit of several present who had never attended a Farm Bureau meeting before, Mr. Rubel explained that when a farmer called on a Farm Advisor for assistance he was calling on the government for help, for if a problem proves too knotty for the advisor it is passed up to the experts at the State University and if they in turn are unable to help the matter is referred to the Department of Agriculture of the United States.

Farmers generally have been slow to co-operate with the Bureau but once they come to realize the importance of the movement to them they immediately become enthusiasts.

The Farm Advisor can be reached at any time by addressing C. W. Rubel, Hayward, Cal.

Annual Meeting of Library Board

The annual meeting of the Library past year discussed and plans made for the future.

Reports from various sources showed that Niles patronizes its library better than any other section of the County outside of the cities on the bay.

The action of the board of directors in making much needed improvements was heartily endorsed and as a further endorsement the entire board of directors consisting of Messrs. Shinn, Sneden, Donovan, and Ford and Mrs. Chittenden, were re-elected for the coming year.

The room where the board met was in a dismantled condition owing to the carpenter work that is being done there. The reading room is being enlarged and will be repainted and other necessary improvements made.

After the meeting the Board of Directors held a meeting and laid plans for the coming year.

The south half of the building was re-leased for one year to the Washington Press. Mr. Donovan was appointed a committee of one to attend to putting in lights and Mr. Sneden was instructed to let a contract for painting.

The library will be closed to the public until the work is completed.

Recall Petition Is Not Expected to Live

The Spring Valley recall petition is in a bad way. It is dying from loss of signatures. And unless Will Jefferies can revive it by an infusion of new signatures the poor thing is liable to pass away

The withdrawal of over two hundred names has so depleted it that it is feared it will not recover from the shock. It is probably just as well that it die now for should it be revived sufficiently to reach the age of a recall election, it is doomed to even a more violent death.

Thanks to the work of such representative citizens as Henry May and Joseph Roderick of Decoto, Bart Brown of Newark, Wm. Trenouth and Manuel Joseph of Irvington, and Dr. H. W. Emerson, George Joseph, Emanuel George of Alviso and Richard Hunt of Niles, the names on the recall petition have come off so lively that there is not much left of it except its vicious purpose. The good people of the valley when they realized the trick that had been played upon them made it easy for the men who went to the bat to save the district to get the necessary withdrawals.

It is not likely that in the present temper of the people that Mr Jefferies will attempt to secure another batch of signers. He can without doubt now devote his attention to that suffering business in San Francisco. It needs him and Washington Township can [illegible] without the aid of the Spring Valley Water Co.

ADD TO RECALL Pxz shr shr shs
ADD Recall petitionarticle . . . . . .

The original recall petition had several hundred names on it, about 300. Up to Monday of this week over 200 singers had withdrawn their names and since then this number has been materially increased. In Decoto, Newark and Centerville practically all the names have been withdrawn and in Niles and Irvington but very few remain.

It is a foregone conclusion that if the recall election were to be held it would be snowed under. The reaction against the recallers is so strong that if a further attempt is made to force the useless expense of a recall election upon the county, the recallers will surely hear from the indignant people of the township. A mass meeting has been suggested but it will not be called unless the Spring Valley persists in forcing the matter.

The recall petition is in itself undoubtedly illegal in its present form without the withdrawal of practically the entire list of names.

St. James to Lose Pastor

The news that Rev. W. F. Higby who has been pastor of St. James Episcopal Church at Centerville for the past three years is to go to Berkeley as Director of Religious Education from St. Marks, was received with mingled feelings of joy and sorrow by those who have come in contact with him during his stay in Centerville; joy that Mr. Higby's ability has been recognized and that he is to be permitted to work in a larger field and sorrow at losing him from the community.

Next Sunday evening Rev. Higby will preach his last evening sermon at St. James at 7:45 p. m., and on Sunday, Oct. 10th, he will preach his farewell sermon at 11:00 a. m.

The best wishes of the entire township will go with Mr. Higby, for by his never ceasing labors he has endeared himself to all who know him.

THE WASHINGTON PRESS

THE ALAMEDA COUNTY PRESS.

Telephone, Niles 71.

CHRIS RUNCKEL.....Editor and Proprietor
CLYDE R. EVANS.....Business Manager

Published at Niles, California Every Saturday Morning.

Entered at the Postoffice at Niles, Cal., as Second-Class Mail Matter

The Press naturally feels like congratulating the people of the township who had the good sense to remove their names from the Spring Valley recall petition when they found that they had been duped into signing a recall again the men who were doing their best to protect their rights. Although the editor of the Press was one of the strongest advocates of the recall, he has not lost faith in either the recall or the people because of the attempt to make a useful law serve a very bad purpose. We still beleve the people can be trusted when they learn the truth. It is not a pleasant duty on our part to expose people who are trying to put over a dirty job but in a matter of such vital importance it is all the more necessary.

Unless the petition is still forced upon the people of the district we are content to let the matter drop and devote our energies to other questions that ought to engage the attenion of our people.

It is perhaps just as well that the attempt has been made as it has served to show up the true nature of the persistent attacks made upon the water district for the past three monhs.

The unanimity of sentiment against the aggressions of the Spring Vally Water Co. that has manifested itself should not be misinterpreted. It is because that company is striking at the very safety of this section's future prosperity that our people regardless of former differences have rallied to the defense. The good team work is due to the intrinsic merit of the cause.

Any one who goes up against this sentiment is apt to get hurt. Now let us turn our attention to the injunction suit and force it to an issue and have it over as soon as possible in order that the expense that it entails will be stopped as soon as possible.

The three column article by Will Jefferis last week defending the recall of the three men who have done their duty as public servants has been effectively answered by the people of the Water District.

We have sought no quarrel with Will Jefferis. We have opposed his efforts to serve the Spring Valley Water Co. He has paid the price of service to an unprincipled and grasping corporation. Just the same we are sorry to see any young man prostitute his manhood in such a service. If his efforts have come to naught it is because he has chosen the wrong path. He ought to know by this time that his master, the Spring Valley Water Co. is rightfully considered a public enemy by the people of this township and that he has forever distroyed his usefulness in this field by espousing their efforts to despoil this section. If he persists further to do their bidding he will have even greater cause to regret it for he is up against a stone wall. To persist further is simply to invote disaster.

A PERSONAL WORD

During the past few months the editor of the Press has been charged with all sorts of negatives and ambitions, what our personal ambitions are but in order to set at rest some of the silly charges of political ambition, etc., we take the liberty of referring to personal matters.

Our chief ambition at present is to earn an honest living, and get out of debt. So far as the Press is concerned, we want to make it a useful factor in serving the best interests of the community and above all things else we want to make it worthy of the support of the people and also to pay its way. The glamor of publicity has no charm for us personally. We have long since been cured of the itch for holding public office. The only value any position has in our eyes is the service it may be capable of rendering.

We have a far greater and keener desre to earn the word honest than we have to have any empty prefix that public office may confer attached to our name.

We have risked about all that any person can be asked to risk in order to center the attention of our community upon the one great problem which is up now for final settlement. Nine years of secrifice has left us with a serious personal problem to solve that out weighs any temptation to bask in the sunlight of public favor.

We are longing more to devote our whole energies to the needs of our own personal and family situation than to participate actively in political intrigule or public office holding.

While we have enlisted for the war in defense of this township's future we hope that the struggle will speedily come to a successful end.

When it does we will be perfectly willing to allow others to take up the work where we have left off.

This ought to set at ease any speculation as to any ulterior motive that may be ascribed to us.

CONSTRUCTIVE WORK

One of the charges made against the Water District Directors is that they have undertaken no constructive work. There will be time enough for that when we have saved the foundation upon which we are to build. Once our fight to establish our right to our present water supply which Spring Vally has foced upon us is won then we can turn our attention to constructive work. There is plenty of opportunity for constructive work in properly supplying the various towns of the township. We are not unmindful of that. When the time is ripe the people of the district will attend to that. But we don't want Spring Valley to do the constructing for us.

Mr. Jefferis' answer to our question as to who is paying for the big six cylinder auto plus the chauffer is that it is nobody's (dam) business and that the tax payers ought to be glad that it is being used in their interest. Furthermore that we should ask him a decent question. There is a flood of truth in Mr. Jefferis' retort that is really illuminating. But really, Mr. Jefferis, the people all over the district have had their curiosity aroused as to who the generous taxpayer is who financed the recall campaign. Maybe your petition circulators didn't receive anything for securing those names. Some of them intimated that they did. Did they lie about it, Mr. Jefferis?

THE PROBLEM OF MARKETING

One of the most serious questions that today confronts our farmers is the solution of the problem of selling their crops to better advantage. The unsatisfactory returns that have been received this summer in many lines brings this question home with particular emphasis. What is the cause? What is the remedy?

The Press intends to give the question especial attention during the coming year and we invite the attention of all who are interested in it to aid us in getting more real light on the subject.

THE NON PARTISAN ISSUE

The question of electing State officers on the non-partisan basis does not threaten political parties in this State on national issues at all. The new primary law particularly provides that Representatives in Congress, United States senators, and delegates to national conventions shall be elected as partisans. This preserves party lines on natianal issues absolutely.

It is naturally to be expected that the people who expect to manipulate the federal patronage should seek to strengthen themselves by maintaing their prestige in State political organization. They are the active opponents of the non-partisan law.

It should be kept clearly in mind, however, that the new registration law which is not held up by the referendum but is already in effect provides that voters shall register without mention of party affiliation. The defeat of the law providing for the election of a few more state officers as non-partisans will throw the whole scheme of non-partisanship in confusion and open the way for changes which may soon throw us back to the old convention system which has proved so unsatisfactory in the past.

By making the State officers non-partisan, greater attention will be forced on State issues and greater emphasis will be placed on the character of the candidates, themselves. It will serve to divide state issues from national isssues as the best interests of both require.

There has been too much utiization of national parties to cover clever state schemes which could not be put over if forced to face the scrutiny of the public.

The non-partisan candidate for governor must naturally have some sort of state issue to run upon and when this condition obtains there is much more liklihood of candidates espousing the things that the people of the State require.

The non-partisan issue is an important one and should be carefully considered.

WASHINGTOWN TOWNSHIP CHURNED UP OVER THE ATTEMPTED RECALL

Our neighbor, Washington township, is surely churned up to the highest pitch of excitement over the attempted recall of the water directors, the hidden hand of the Spring Valley Water Co. undoubtedly to be at the bottom of it. But they surely run up against a hornets's nest, for Bro. Runckel, who has been the fearless champion of the people of that township for years, is exposing the whole scheme and has the people with him, and there is no question that it will be snowed under, and not even enough signatures will be secured to call an election.—Hayward Journal.

Gov. Johnson at Oakland

Govrnor Johnson opened the campaign for the ratification of the State Non-Partisan Bill at Oakland last Friday night. Among the points made by Governor Johnson were:

"A patriotic man or woman will think and then vote; a partisan just votes."

"Nonpartisanship makes a man stand before his people in his own character; partisanship enables him to masquerade behind his ancestors."

"What do you prefer,that your state officials shall be elected upon the traditions and strength of a political party or upon their ability to fill the job?"

"The State, after all, is the people's big business. Its manager should be elected because of his merit and ability—not because he belongs to a particular political party."

"Without partisanship whole-hearted undivided service can be rendered by a public official; with prtisanship he divides his service."

"Blind partisansip has even been the hope and the refuge of the unworthy politician."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Decoto

The Victor Incubator Company this week received a very substantial order for fifteen of its incubators and brooders one in Sonoma County. The order was given after the entire field had been gone over. The Victor won the gold medal at the Exposition and there is every reason to believe that the order this week is only a forerunner of the business that awaits the company. It would seem that Decoto's chance for another active manufacturing enterprise is bright indeed.

The Decoto Ladies Guild met at the Congregational Church last Wednesday and spent a very busy session.

J. L. Olson has recently been appointed a notary public by Governor Johnson in place of his wife. It is a matter of considerable convenience to have a notary in the town.

H. L. Sanders of the Essex Lumber Co. is back in Tennessee on a business visit for the company. During his absence Mr. Alexander is in charge.

It has been rumored that Roadmaster A. George intends to gravel a path from the Salz warehouse to the school house for the benefit of the school children. It will be a very popular thing if done. Mr. George has greatly improved the roads of the Decoto district during the past month and is getting the gravel on in time so that they will be in pretty good shape before the rainy season sets in.

The Seventh Grade of the Decoto school expects to spend next Saturtion of Principal Runckel.

BASE BALL

By EDWARD W. FRIES, Sporting Editor

In a listless onesided contest featured only by the hitting and base running of the local team the Niles Indians defeated the Telegraph's of San Francisco by a score of 9 to 3. There was very little interest in the outcome of the contest after the first inning when the local club drove over six runs, after which the visitors began to play rather listless ball. Outside of the stellar playing of the entire Niles team, which seems to be considerably stronger than any time this year, there was no feature. Dolan was in good form and was scored upon only after he had eased up with his team mates hitting the delivery of Reeves to all corners of the lot. It is to be regretted that the contest was so onesided since a large crowd was out to welcome the return home of the touring Indians, but the local management had arranged what they thought the strongest possible opposition in an effort to treat the fans to a real game of ball. It must be said however, that the Indians played like champs from beginning to end and at the conclusion of the 9 innings had gathered in a large supply of base hits. Garcia led at the bat with 3 hits while Esola, Fries, A. Wales, Tubbs, all hit well and timely.

Esola's catch of a pop fly back of third was the only fielding feature. Tubbs of Livermore caught a steady game, besides hitting for a double and triple.

The score:

Niles Essanay.

Niles will have for their opponents tomorrow at Sullivan Park the Western Division, Southern Pacific Club, winners of the pennant in the Railroad League of San Francisco and one of the strongest teams in the city. The Indians will present the same lineup as last Sunday with Tubbs ex-state league catcher behind the bat and the Wales Brothers in left and right field. With Tubbs, Wales and Perry the Essanay Indians are considerable stronger at the bat than at any time during the present year and this game should be worth going miles to see.

The R. R. Co. has been after the Niles Club for a long time for the coming contest and promise to take the local teams measure and will bring with them a large following so it is up to the Niles fans to come out in large numbers to help keep the victory here.

Game called at 2:30 p. m., with Wittenmeyer and Bacon umpiring.
